THE 7-DAY CLIENT SPRINT

Day Two

The bridge call.
From conversation to a clear next step.

I	II
The bridge call	Step by step
PAGE 1	PAGE 2

Jason Moss

PARTICIPANT HANDOUT

PART ONE

The bridge call

The step between your conversations and a sales call. Twenty minutes. Not a sales call, but a value-focused conversation that helps them get clear on their situation and the right next step.

I

WHERE WE ARE On Day 1 you opened conversations and invited people with a clear gap to a 20-minute call. Today is that call: what it's for, how to run it, and how to end it with a clear next step.

The four goals

1

Surface a clear gap

Where they are, where they want to be, and what's in the way.

2

Give value through insight and diagnosis

Help them see what needs to change, without helping them change it.

3

Qualify readiness for the next step

Their desire for help, their urgency to change, and their financial capacity to commit.

4

Gain commitment on a next step

A booked "part 2" call. Or a graceful exit if it's not a fit.

Why a bridge call helps

Value forward

Builds trust and reciprocity, and lets you build a relationship with leads who aren't as warm yet.

Lowers the barrier

Creates a lower-risk entry point into your sales process.

Qualifies

Weeds out people who aren't a fit for a sales conversation, so you protect your time.

PART TWO

The call, step by step

II

Six stages, twenty minutes. Follow the flow, use the language, and keep the call tight.

THE 20-MINUTE FLOW

Rapport	Frame	Uncover the gap	Diagnosis	Qualify	Next step
0–2	~2	2–9 min	9–14 min	14–17	17–20

Save the last third of the call for qualifying and locking in the next step.

01 Rapport

0–2 MIN

Build safety and trust. Keep it brief, under two minutes.

OPEN WARM

"So good to connect. I've been looking forward to this since we chatted about ___."

- Before the call, reread your DM thread and mention one specific thing they told you.
- Thirty seconds of genuine connection is plenty. Then lead.

02 Frame the call

~2 MIN

Establish your leadership, ease any sales resistance, and set the agenda.

SET THE AGENDA

"I know we don't have a ton of time, so let's dive in."

"My intention is to make this as valuable as possible for you. We'll zoom in on the core challenge, I'll ask a few questions, and we'll get clear on what needs to shift."

"It's not a sales call. If I think I can help on a deeper level, I'll tell you at the end. Sound good?"

03 Uncover the gap

2–9 MIN

Bring out the pain and the desire. Let them talk once, then narrow in on specifics: numbers, dates, real examples.

PAIN

"Let's start with this. Can you give me a brief, high-level overview of where you're at, and what you feel like the biggest challenge is?"

DESIRE

"And where is it you want to be instead?"

GO DEEPER

"Where are things right now, in real numbers?"

"What have you tried so far, and what happened?"

"What is this costing you? What happens if nothing changes in the next six months?"

REFLECT IT BACK

"So what I'm hearing is ___. Would you agree?"

- If they start telling the whole story again, steer: "Let me pause you there."

04 Share your diagnosis

9–14 MIN

Here's what's broken and why, and here's what would happen if we fixed it. Be a doctor: calm, clear, direct.

NAME THE REAL PROBLEM

"Can I offer a reflection? I don't think the problem is ___. I think it's ___, because ___."

NAME THE UPSIDE

"If we fixed that, ___. And honestly, it's very solvable."

LOOP THEM IN

"How does that land for you?"

- Give the what, not the how. One clear insight, not a workshop.

05 Qualify

14–17 MIN

Check readiness and financial capacity before you book the next call.

READINESS

"Is this something you'd like help solving?"

"What's making now feel like the right time?"

FINANCIAL CAPACITY

"Great. And to be transparent, if we were to work together, you'd be looking at an investment of around $___. Is that going to be doable, assuming we feel it's a good fit?"

IF THEY HESITATE

"Is it more that it's not doable right now, which is totally fine? Or that it feels like a stretch, but possible if you saw the value?"

STRETCH
Book the part 2 call.

NOT DOABLE RIGHT NOW
Gracefully exit (step 6).

06 Lock in the next step

17–20 MIN

Book a "part 2" sales conversation while you're still on the call. If it's not a fit, exit gracefully with one tangible next step.

BOOK PART 2

"Let's set aside some time for a part two. We'll map out what you need, I'll show you what working together would look like, and you can decide. If it's not a fit, you'll still leave with a clear plan."

"I'm looking at my calendar. Does Tuesday at 10 work? It's about 45 minutes. I'll send the invite now."

GRACEFUL EXIT

"If I were you, the one thing I'd do for the next 30 days is ___."

"Send me an update in 30 days. I'm rooting for you."

- Offer two times within the next one or two days.
- Send the calendar invite before you hang up.

WATCH FOR

Pitfalls to avoid

1 Coaching and solving their problem

The what is the value: what's going on, why it's happening, and what they need. Not the how. This keeps the tension of the gap while still giving real insight.

2 Loose leadership, going too deep, running over

These are tight, focused conversations. Hold the clock for them.

3 Not locking in a clear next step

Book part 2 before you hang up. "I'll send you my thoughts" almost never goes anywhere.

When they push back

"I need to think about it."

Find out what's underneath: "What would need to be true for you to feel 100% ready?"

"I've invested before and it didn't help."

"What do you feel was missing?"

"Can you just send me the price?"

Give the range, then bring it back to part 2. The price only makes sense once you've mapped what they need.

It's not a fit.

Don't tell them they're not a fit. Skip the invitation and leave them with the one thing to do for the next 30 days.

REMEMBER

This call is a diagnosis and an invitation. The decision to work together happens on part 2, with time to do it properly.